Comprehensive, affordable
Identity Theft Protection

VERIFY | PROTECT | RECOVER

Why do I need identity theft protection?

Think about all the times you freely give businesses sensitive data like your name, date of birth or Social Security number. When you apply for a credit card, seek a new job or take out an insurance policy. Because we share personal details with others so often, it's imperative we think about the safety of that information. And it's become even more important in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic as more and more people file for unemployment or other government loans. The Federal Trade Commission states they received 2.8 million reports of identity fraud in 2021, a substantial increase from the prior year.

In 2021 alone:

5.7 million

Number of fraud, identity theft, and other incidents reported.*

$5.8 billion

Money lost to fraud committed in the U.S.*

* 2021 Consumer Sentinel Network Data Book, FTC

Identity (ID) theft is unfortunately prevalent and prolific. As more and more data breach events occur, preemptive action is becoming a necessary protection.

Mandatory Disclaimer

Parent/Legal Guardian will need to pass a one-time guardianship verification process to receive alert content for children.

Children are easy targets for identity theft because they often don't check their credit until they are 18. If child identity theft is committed at age 8, there is an opportunity to commit identity theft for ten years before a parent or child notices.

This feature monitors your child's personal information to identify activity on the dark web and to spot credit information associated with your child's identity.

Social Media Monitoring

What your child shares and how they interact with others online can result in identity theft or reputational issues. - Your child is posting derogatory content to their feeds.
- Somebody else could be cyberbullying them on their feeds.
- Their profile includes personal information such as their address, date of birth, email address, and more, which could be used to commit identity theft.
